Governor Names Mayor Carver Chairman Of Travel Committee for Hospitality Month

Observations...

By the Editor

We are just a little curious, and too, we wonder just why the directors of the chamber of commerce and not take a stand and encourage the application of the national highways for a permit from the U. S. C. to put their system on Highway 90, through Bay St. Louis. This is a civic matter, certainly no harm could come to our town by having another transportation system to bring people to and through our town, and by the way, we think National Highways have overlooked a good bet in not including Waveland in their application. It is not too late and these boys should amend their application to include this thriving little community to the south of us. . . . The annual church fair for the benefit of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 1 and 2, on the grounds of the St. Stanislaus Day School. . . . The annual retreat of the Brothers of the Sacred Heart is scheduled much earlier than usual this year. It will start Sunday evening June 4. . . . Chapter two of the Episcopal Auxiliary is giving a turkey-pie supper at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club Tuesday, June 13, from 5:30 to 8:30 p. m. Tickets at $1.25 per plate may be obtained from Mrs. John L. Griffin by calling 1193. . . . Don't forget the dramatic reading by Mrs. Ethel Schwartz, at the Bay High School Auditorium on June 6 at 2 P. M. for the benefit of the Methodist Church Building Fund. . . . This is hospitality month, proclaimed by the Governor, and of course this fits in with our country's slogan, "Extending Hospitality." This section of the State is noted for its Hospitality. There are no strangers in our midst, and there are very few of our people who do not know how to smile; it is a good habit that pays dividends. Courtesy to your fellow man and particularly to strangers make them feel they are wanted and gives them an at home feeling. . . . A little know how and the will to do often pays dividends. . . . Joe and Norman Compretta have both a patch of pole beans, a little less than two acres, will produce approximately 600 bushels of beans. These boys have gathered over 200 bushels already and are getting a good price. It brings back memories of the days when truck farmers were abundant in the vicinity of Bay St. Louis. The younger generation, with few exceptions, has drifted away from it. . . . Joe and Norman are two exceptions. These boys $1000.00 on an 80 day crop of will probably show a profit of less than 2 acres. . . . There is still money in it for those who are not afraid of a bit of hard work. . . . The job of surfacing the Beach Boulevard is practically com-

Governor Fielding L. Wright has proclaimed June in Mississippi as "Hospitality Month" and is calling on all citizens to participate in this second statewide program to encourage increased tourist business. Mayor Warren J. Carver has been appointed chairman of the local Community Travel Committee. The Community Travel Promotion plan is an attempt made by the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board to help each community develop its tourist and recreational interests and to profit financially and otherwise by doing this. Mayor Carver, upon notification that he had been appointed chairman of the travel committee, named T. T. Robin, vice-chairman; H. W. LeBlissier, secretary-treasurer; and an advertising and publicity committee composed of John Damborino, editor of the Hancock County Eagle and A. G. Favre, editor of the Sea Coast Echo. They will work with the chairman in an effort to carry pleted and again we want to say thank you to the Board of Supervisors and the Mayor and Commissioners of the City of Bay St. Louis. This has been a job well done at a very low cost. The total cost of the entire project will hardly exceed $25,000.00. . . . This includes fill and all. There is still a bit to be done and the Boards should not overlook putting in some additional fill, sloping it to the wall, and then planting grass. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, and we know you boys are much interested in this project and would be to see it done, so why not get your heads together again. . . . And while on the subject, how about fixing the bad spots at the lower end of the Waveland Beach and down at Clermont Harbor. These are the only eye sores on the Beach road and the only remnants of the 1947 hurricane which are left.

How To Gain One Million Votes Quickly And Easily

Here's an example how quickly and easily votes pile up in The Sea Coast Echo's big "Everybody Wins" prize subscription contest, now in its formative stages:

Twenty-five thousand votes are issued on each 5-year subscription (only $9.00 during contest) providing same is received at this office while MAXIMUM number of votes are allowed.

Just twenty new or renewal subscriptions (amounting to only $180.00 in collections) would entitle any contestant to 500,000 REGULAR votes; and, as 50,000 EXTRA votes are issued on each and every $18.00, "club," that many subscriptions would constitute exactly 10 "clubs" on which 500,000 EXTRA votes are given.

Then, too, if these 20 "full limit" subscriptions are reported on or before this Saturday night while the special vote offer of contest is in effect; they would mean an additional 250,000 SPECIAL votes.

Therefore, a mere matter of 20 such subscriptions NOW would add up to exactly 1,250,000 total votes.

Listen, wide-awake contestants, haven't you at least 20 good friends who would lend their support to the extent of a "full limit" subscription (which, incidentally, gives them a six month subscription FREE) toward helping you win that smart new 1950 Chevrolet "Styleline" Sedan automobile, worth exactly $2157.29 grand capital prize?

Surely you have! Try it and see!

Kenneth R. Whitfield of Pica-yune assumed management of Fahey Funeral Home this week.

Hold Joint Crowning

On Sunday, May 28 at 5 p. m. in a joint service by the students of St. Joseph Academy and St. Stanislaus the Statue of the Blessed Virgin was crowned on the grounds of St. Stanislaus Parochial school. The girls forming the court were officers and council members of the Sodality. They were wearing dresses, and their escorts were officers and members of St. Stanislaus Confraternity. After Jackie LaNasa had crowned the Blessed Mother, John Gutknecht recited the Act of Consecration. At an outdoor altar with a background of pipe needles and banded with white gladiolus Rev. Father, Desmond gave the benediction.

The Hancock County Drive is well under way, and in order to keep interest alive, Bay St. Louis will be visited by an exact replica of the Liberty Bell, Monday morning, June 5, at 9 a. m.

DONATE COPPER

Forty-nine replicas of the Liberty Bell are on tour of the Nation during the drive; six of the country's great copper companies donated the necessary amount of copper to make these forty-nine bells. Dr. Arthur Bigelow, deanmaster at Princeton University, and one of America's foremost cartographers, is serving as the treasurer's volunteer consultant on the casting and production of the bells. In order to assure accuracy of tone, Dr. Bigelow measured the Liberty Bell with campers and went to Europe to supervise their manufacture.

Silent Since 1835

For the first time since 1835, when the Liberty Bell cracked as it tolled for the funeral of John Marshall, all living Americans will be able to hear the bell's actual tone; and the people here in Bay St. Louis will hear it for the first time Monday morning at 9:30 at the head of Main street and the Beach when the duplicate of the original arrives on a specially constructed truck that was furnished for this drive by the Ford Motor Company.

Upon arrival, the bell will be greeted by a special delegation from the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and will be escorted into town by police officers.

Mayor Warren Carver and other dignitaries will be on hand to greet this great American symbol of LIBERTY AND INDEPENDENCE.

The ringing of the bell will be followed by the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Robert Gerson Scharff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Scharff of Bay St. Louis will receive his B. S. Degree in chemistry and physics at Louisiana State University, Saturday, June 3.

Scharff is a member of the Interfraternity Council, and of Alpha Epsilon Pi Social Fraternity of which he was president. He is also a member of Alpha Chi Sigma, honorary chemical fraternity.

J. R. Scharff and Larry Scharff will attend the graduation.

LEND YOUR SUPPORT

The application of the National Trailways Bus System for permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to operate their service along the Gulf Coast on highway 90 from Mobile to New Orleans, it approved will give to the Mississippi Gulf Coast the added transportation facilities of a major transportation system, which will alleviate the crowded local travel conditions presently existing along the Gulf Coast. It will afford more diversified and timely schedules for the benefit of the people of this section, many of whom travel daily to and from New Orleans.

In addition to the benefits of more adequate traveling facilities for our own people, it will also bring to the Mississippi Gulf Coast people who are going to other areas for their vacations.

We were quite impressed with a statement of A. P. Stoenmaker, Jr., President of the Mississippi Coast Hotel Association, in a letter urging public support of the application of the National Trailways. We quote: "Our hotel Association has been disturbed for a long time over the lack of crack transportation facilities. We hope that this application will be a forerunner of other applications to maintain the finest transportation that there is, to and from this section of the country."

"Our Mississippi Coast Hotel Association knows that the Gulf Coast needs additional transportation, both coming into and going out of this section, and in our position, we think that our opinion would mean something in as much as we are catering to the traveling public and can show that business has been directed to other areas because of unsatisfactory transportation."

"We have one of the most beautiful playgrounds in America and as long as any air line, bus line or railroad wishes to improve service to this area we do not believe anyone interested in the development of the Gulf Coast, which is suffering so much from lack of adequate transportation, would do anything to prevent these additional facilities being added in this area."

"It is a very short sighted and selfish motive on anyone's part to oppose the development of an area, and this is what it would be if anyone opposed the application for this new service through the area."

Travel and transportation facilities have developed this great country, and certainly we should lend every effort to open more travel facilities to and from the Mississippi Gulf Coast. In late years these facilities have decreased instead of increasing, and particularly is this true of our local schedules which are not sufficient or timed to care for an ever increasing traveling public.

The hearing of the application of the National Trailways is scheduled for July 31, but all affidavits and written testimony in support of the application must be filed not later than June 4. To lend your support to this application may be a move for added stimulus to business along the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

Are you for it? If so the agents of the National Trailways will be at Hotel Reed on Saturday and Sunday of this week—offer them your affidavit and your support.

Truman Dinner

SOME TIME before leaving on his whistle-stop trip, President Truman held a hush-hush dinner with one of his most vigorous political enemies—Senator Brewster of Maine.

The dinner was held not in the White House, but at the Carlton hotel. And it was the President who inspired the meeting. He and Brewster had worked together on the old Truman committee, once had been warm friends.

Chief result of the Carlton dinner was a challenge to test out the Fair Deal. Brewster is chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, and has the job of electing as many GOP senators as possible next November.

Knowing this, Truman challenged: "I'll lay my program out and you lay your program out, and we'll have a showdown."

Brewster agreed. Though they didn't actually plan it that way, part of the showdown is coming right now. Truman is now putting his policies before the public, while Brewster has been busy lining up speakers to refute him. He has already lined up Taft for a speech in Chicago, Wherry in Nebraska, Hickenlooper in Iowa, Morse in Oregon, and congressman Keefe in Wisconsin.

Brewster says the battle, hatched over the dinner table at the Carlton hotel, will continue until November.

Acheson's Big Problem

Before Secretary of State Acheson left for the big three conference, he had a report from the Orient indicating that French Indo-China was the most vital area in preventing the spread of communism.

The report came from Ed Dickinson, ace trouble-shooter for ECA administrator Paul Hoffman. State department officials concur with Dickinson's views.

They believe that if communism once takes over Indo-China, then Burma, the Malaya, Siam, India and Indonesia will also fall, making all of the Orient a Russian sphere of influence.

Furthermore, it is believed that this is Moscow's chief goal. For the Red army today lacks oil, gasoline, in short, all the things that are to be obtained in the wealthy area lying south of French Indo-China.

That is why Indo-China is one of the toughest jobs facing Acheson and also why he met it head-on following his arrival in Paris. Here are some of the factors he still has to contend with.

1. THE U. S. SENATE IS HOT AND BOTHERED ABOUT CHINA, but not Indo-China. This may be because of the well-heeled Kuomintang lobby which has spent thousands in Washington influencing congress. Whatever the cause, when Acheson publicly proposed aid to Indo-China, he was rebuked next day by Senator George of Georgia, who wanted to know who was going to vote the money.

2. THE FRENCH ARE A HANDICAP. French administration of Indo-China in the past has been inefficient, corrupt, imperialistic. The natives don't like them, shoot down French troops at night if they stray a mile or so outside of towns.

3. INDO-CHINA IS SPLIT AMONG VARIOUS FACTIONS. There is no love for Emperor Bao Dai, one-time Paris playboy, whom the French have set up as ruler. There is also bitter hatred for guerrilla leader Ho Chi Minh and his scorched-earth policy.

Possibly the United States could handle the situation better without the French. But that would eliminate one of our oldest allies. Thus Acheson has the senate to buck on one hand, the French on the other and the Communists all around them.

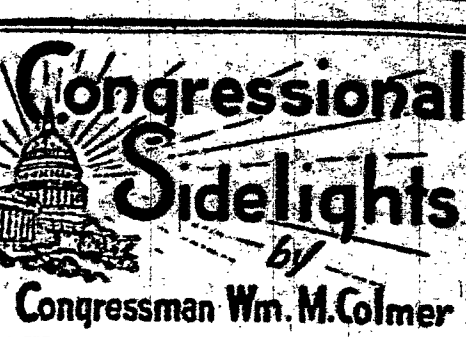

John L. Lewis Purge

John L. Lewis, Republican, has been busy backstage trying to purge a Democrat, Rep. Anthony Cavalcante of Pennsylvania. Lewis is sore because Cavalcante demanded that district four of the United Mine Workers have local autonomy and the right to elect their own officers. Cavalcante used to be a member of this local, has an excellent record in congress, and will be supported by many rank-and-file miners. However, Lewis' strong-arm men are doing their best to elect Edward Dumbauld, Cavalcante's opponent.

New England Slump

The President's council of economic advisers, while pleased with the recent unemployment drop, are still deeply concerned over the situation in the New England area. Throughout the nation unemployment now averages 5-7 per cent, but in New England it averages around 12 per cent. As a result, the council will soon set up a task force of prominent businessmen and economists with instructions to make a thorough and intensive study of the causes and cures.

Mr. Clarence Tudbury, who recently underwent a major operation, has returned to his home here from a New Orleans hospital. Mrs. John Peters, Mr. Tudbury's daughter, plans to leave for her home in Chicago, Ill., in the early part of next week.

PEACE OVERTURES

Trygve Lie, United States Secretary-General, has now had his long-heralded conference with Stalin and lesser lights of the Moscow Politburo. Mr. Lie in a laudable undertaking, went to Russia to endeavor to get the cooperation of the Soviet Politburo in the United Nations' effort to stop another arms race and to bring about some satisfactory international peace solution.

That the Secretary-General's mission was to the key spot and very laudable is unquestioned. Russia, as everyone knows, including Stalin, holds the key to world peace. If Stalin and his several ranking members of the Politburo, which control Russia, would agree to function in the family of nations, as set up under the United Nations Charter, and would agree to an honest effort to bring a cessation of the cold war, this old world could be relieved of its jitters, and peace on earth could reign.

RUSSIA STILL UNCOOPERATIVE

Just what transpired in the conference between Stalin and Lie will not likely be known publicly for many years to come. The true discussions in these international conferences are never made public until after international differences are settled, either peacefully or at arms. In the meantime, Lie, of course, is holding further conferences with the heads of the French, British, and American Governments, giving them the lowdown on what transpired in this historical Moscow conference.

Dean Acheson, the American Secretary of State, will return to Washington this week. He will of course, report to President Truman the result of his conference with Secretary-General Lie and others in London. He will then appear before an informal gathering of the House and Senate, where he will make a further report. However, it can be safely assumed that Mr. Acheson will be rather guarded in the Congressional report and will not disclose any important State secrets to such a large body.

NOT TOO OPTIMISTIC

We dislike to be pessimistic in drawing our own conclusions about the Lie-Stalin conference. But, having had a similar experience of the conference with Stalin immediately following World War

HOSPITALITY COMMITTEE

In conjunction with the second annual state wide hospitality monthly program, the following community travel program committee has been appointed:

Mayor Francis Hursey, chairman; Robert DeMetz, vice-chairman; Miss Rosalee Ambler, secretary-treasurer; and E. A. Helwick, Ralph Fournier and Thomas H. McDonald.

The City of Pass Christian plans to cooperate in every way possible to make Hospitality month an even greater success than last year's.

II, and having learned first-hand the operation of the Stalin-Politburo mind, we must be realistic enough to feel that there is not too much room for optimism as a result of that conference. It is safe to assume that: 1. Lie did most of the talking. Stalin did most of the listening; 2. Stalin gave lip service to world peace, but did not disclose Russia's hand; 3. Russia is willing to cooperate but on Russia's terms, which is a one-way street; 4. No real and constructive result will come from the meeting.

We repeat, this sounds pessimistic, but as we have repeatedly pointed out in the past six years, after our own conferences over there, Russia is bent upon world domination thru the Communist front. She can not accomplish this through cooperating with other non-Communist nations. He wants war no more than we want war, but for the present, at least, will continue to rely upon her chief weapons of infiltration and chaos.

BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET

Merge Television and Movies In a Marriage of Convenience

By BILLY ROSE

You might not think it to look at them, but the two big branches of show business are in heavy trouble — movies and television broadcasting.

The movies, a business with plenty of product, is up against a rapidly shrinking audience, and though some of the companies are still in the black, it's a cinch they won't be when there are 10 million TV sets in 10 million parlors. Judging by the financial pages, the people who own the companies agree with me because most of the movie stocks are selling for less than half of their 1948 quotations.

The television business, on the other hand, has a rapidly expanding audience but darned little product worth looking at. And, as I see it, it isn't the fault of the TV tycoons — there just isn't enough theatrical talent around to provide good live entertainment for the 300 half-hour shows which the networks must present each week.

In other words, unless something is done about it and pronto, one business will grow more insolvent and the other more insipid.

Is there a solution? Of course, and like all good solutions it's a simple one: Television must marry the movies, or vice versa—and if there are laws on the books which get in the way of these nuptials, then in the public interest the laws will have to be changed.

The advantage of this alliance are many and obvious. First, through the sale or rental to telecasters of film expressly made for the foot-square TV screen, the movies can start recouping some of the money that the home sets are siphoning out of their box offices. Second, on a give-and-take basis, the film companies will be able to run off their trailers in millions of living rooms, and the few tests of this type of advertising indicate that it's plenty potent. Third, the midsize screens can be used to develop new picture series, and this, as movie men will tell you, is the real life blood of their silly business.

What can Hollywood do for Television? Plenty. A sufficient amount of the right kind of film will solve better than half of its programming problems—and I'm, of course, not referring to the grade-Z vintage stuff which certain studios now run as a last and undignified resort. I'm talking about pictures exactly tailored for the small screen, skillfully staged and lighted, and which, among other things, will steer clear of the long shots which look like so much oscillating mush.

Hollywood eventually can produce darn near every type of TV program from the travelogue to the three-act dramatic play, but for opens it might do well to concentrate on the popular classics that people never seem to get tired of.

For instance, the best of the short stories of De Maupassant, O. Henry, Ben Hecht, Damon Runyon and Somerset Maugham; ditto, a series of symphonic standbys with Toscanini and Stokowski conducting; double ditto, the inspired antics of Jimmy Durante, Maurice Chevalier and a hundred others in the rhinestoned hodgepodge that makes up show business.

Access to such a stock pile of film classics would, among other things, take the bone-crushing pressure off the TV programmers and allow them to concentrate on a few really good live shows.

And before long, if they use the sense that God gave geese, the blending of the reel and the real would add up to entertainment without rushing for the rail. The overall consequence would be that two businesses which give employment to tens of thousands would once and for all climb out of the red and into the pink.

Paramount Pictures, which paid $500,000 for an interest in DuMont some years ago, is angling to sell its holdings for $12,000,000. That would be a nice capital gain, of course, but I wonder if it wouldn't be smarter for Paramount to hold on to this stock and invest a few extra bucks in a film library to make DuMont the first TV network worth a second look.

Who knows—it might be a handy hedge against the time when there are 20 million television sets, and DuMont is considering the purchase of Paramount for $500,000.

Isolationists Fight ECA

THE SENATE, in passing the foreign aid bill which includes authorization for $3,000,000,000 ECA funds, has weathered another storm of isolationism spearheaded by senators from the Middle-west.

The most vocal of these isolation-minded senators were Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader; Sen. William E. Jenner of Indiana, and Sen. James P. Kem of Missouri.

Said Senator Jenner: "The Marshall plan is being used, not only to finance the destruction of Europe's economic life and not only to finance our destruction by driving us every day deeper into the red; it is also being used to underwrite a new set of international schemes in which we shall lose control, once and for all, of our own resources, our wealth, our economic freedom and our national defense."

Said Senator Wherry: "Mr. President I have found little substantiation in either the presentations of the proponents of this legislation or in the hearings and reports by the foreign relations committee, for continuation of this kind of program. Nor has any reasonable evidence been adduced to substantiate that the ECA program is still needed by most of its participants, or that the program continues to serve the purposes for which it was created."

Said Senator Ken: "The question arises, will it be to the best interests of European recovery, will it be to the best interests of our American economy, to encourage the integration of the socialist, planned economies which exist in so many of the Marshall-plan countries. He (Paul Hoffman, ECA administrator) wants American producers to give up part of their overseas business and forfeit part of their markets here at home to foreign producers."

These quotations set off the tenor of other speeches made on the floor of the senate by others of the isolationist group against the ECA authorization measure. In fact, so strong was the opposition to ECA on one roll call to slash the authorization by a half-billion dollars, the measure lost on a vote 35 to 35. As it passed the senate however, it carried the same $250,000,000 cut made in the House.

Appropriation Battle Seen
So ECA came through by a close margin with authorization of $2,700,000,000 in new funds for the third year of operation. This amount is in addition to $149 Million ECA had saved from last year's appropriation.

Now the fight will be in the house appropriations committee where the funds must actually be appropriated.

Foreign Policy Issue

Since interest is so tense and the division so close on this important question, a look at the various funds and where they go should be of interest to the folks in the home towns of the nation. The total as now authorized in HR-7797 is $3,000,000,000. This sum includes $2,700,000,000 for ECA, a carry-over of $94 million in funds for China, $200 million for economic recovery in Korea; $27,450,000 for relief of Palestine refugees.

In addition, the senate version and the house bill differed in these respects: The senate bill authorized $45 million for point four program of technical assistance in backward areas, the house only $25 million. The senate version authorized use of a carryover of $25 million for contributions to the international children's emergency funds of the United Nations. The house bill did not. The Senate denied use of counterpart funds to any country receiving ECA aid "so long as any dependent area of such country fails to comply with any treaty between the United States and such dependent area."

The use of ECA funds and the entire administration foreign policy is expected to be one of the main issues in the coming congressional campaign.

Republican Senator Wherry said: "President Truman is chasing rainbows gaudily painted by alien radical advisers seeking to put across spendthrift socialism to the United States."

President Truman told an Illinois audience: "These men (isolationists) can't see beyond the end of their noses. They don't see that isolationism would let the rest of the world be swallowed up by communism. That would certainly bring on a new world war just as it did in 1939. We reneged in 1921 just as Russia, today is doing it with the help of our own isolationists."

Truman is using ridicule in his campaign against the enemies of his program, asking them to name specific projects they are against.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

Control Horn Flies Now

By Howard F. Simmons

HORN FLIES AND SCREW-WORMS

Horn flies, if not controlled during the next three months, may cause cattle to lose as much as one-half pound of beef per day. On dairy cattle, milk production may be lowered as much as 15 to 20 percent.

Control horn flies by spraying. Wet the back, shoulders, neck and in hot or rainy weather, the under part of the body.

For dairy cattle, use methoxychlor, mixing one pound of 50 percent methoxychlor to each 12 gallons of water. This same rate is one cupful to three gallons of water. Control will be for three or four weeks.

For beef cattle and cattle not being killed, use a one-half percent spray of either DDT, toxaphene or methoxychlor. Spray using any one of these materials is made by mixing one pound of the 50 percent wettable powder to 12 gallons of water or about one cupful to three gallons of water.

If off present toxaphene emulsion, either cotton or livestock emulsion, is used, rate is one gallon of the emulsion to each 100 gallons of water, or one-fourth cupful to each three gallons of water.

Livestock farmers could have an outbreak of screwworms this summer. The screwworm is a fly maggot that eats living tissues of warm-blooded animals, occasionally killing the animal.

Any open wounds are likely to become infested with the maggots. All cuts and wounds should be treated with Smear 62 to prevent infestation. Keep the wound and hair around the wound painted with this material to prevent egg laying by screwworm maggots.

To control worms in sheep, keep a mixture of one part phenothiazine and nine parts salt before the sheep at all times. Use at the rate of one pound, which is a quart jarful of phenothiazine to nine pounds of one gallon of salt. This precaution with sheep is in addition to the individual treatment with phenothiazine in the spring and fall.

JUNE GARDENING
Many good vegetable gardens are "paying off" already. This month is time to keep planting for July and August harvests.

Set late tomato plants by June 10 to 15. Also to be planted are collards, pole snap and lima beans, corn, field peas and okra. Harvest onions when the tops die down, and potatoes when the tops are two-thirds dead. To keep plants producing, regularly harvest tomatoes, peppers, eggplant, beans, okra, squash and cucumbers.

Other jobs this busy gardening month are sprouting Irish potatoes for August planting and preparing soil for July planting. Select and save seed of Tomatoes, pepper, beans, mustard, turnips, cucumber and squash. Dry seed thoroughly before storing.

Keep down weeds and grass, mulch and irrigate.

STUDY PASTURES

If clovers died out early, this probably means that the minerals gave out. Some think summer time pastures from growing, when the real trouble is lack of minerals and overgrazing.

Study pastures this month to find out what may be needed. See whether drainage is needed in the bottom pasture. Many bottom areas grow only tough water grasses, but would grow good grass and clover if drained with the proper ditch.

Broomsedge coming in early means that the pasture needs more minerals and moving. Bitter weeds showing up means there has been overgrazing. Bitter weeds cannot get up and grow in a good sod.

Bread That Packs Nourishment

By MISS MADGE ALLRED

Baker's bread that packs more nourishment in each slice is now available to school lunch boys and girls, hospitals and other institutions in the Baltimore area and other parts of Maryland. This bread is available as a result of successful baking tests by a large baking company in its Baltimore plant in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The results pave the way for providing this nutritious baker's bread to school lunch youngsters in other parts of the nation—and perhaps for the general retail market if there is consumer demand.

The new breads, especially rich in nonfat dry milk with its high quality protein and calcium, are based on formulas developed by school lunch specialists of the USDA's Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics.

Not only did the bakers approve the breads but so did children and adults at 43 schools and 3 hospitals in the Baltimore area. A hospital dietitian, who was not aware of the experiment, praised the bread delivered during the tests as requested the same bread for the future deliveries.

Five formulas for commercial bread passed the tests. Enriched flour is used in each of the formulas. Some of them feature soy flour, wheat germ, or wholewheat flour—which provide added nutrients that children need.

One hundred-portion recipes for these same nourishing breads—designed for use in school lunch kitchens—are already in print. They have been made available to schools throughout the country which make their own bread.

Schools may use the formulas in arranging contracts with commercial bakeries for the new breads. Obtaining the formulas now gives them time to lay plans at school lunch workshops during the summer.

The commercial bread formulas may be obtained from the Bureau of Human Nutrition and Home Economics, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, 25, D. C.

FLOWER NOTES

Keep all old flower blooms cut from annuals. This enables the plant to produce more blooms for a longer period.

It is seldom worthwhile to save seed from annuals. You might be successful in some instances, but it is usually best to buy new plant seedlings of annuals such as seed each year.

Where stands are too thick, transplants and Marigolds. Give all annual plants plenty of space to develop by thinning and transplanting them. Water and shade plants immediately after moving.

It's time to divide and transplant Chrysanthemums and Violets. Separate to a single stem and root plants in rich well prepared soil.

MORE TRASH, LESS GARBAGE

The increasing use of packaged foods is a point to consider in planning a new or remodeled kitchen.

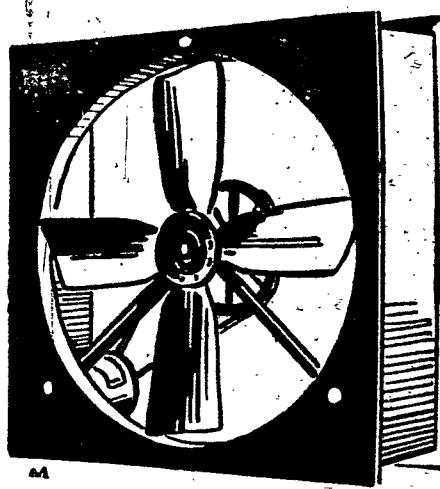

In the waste of today's kitchens are more bottles, cans, wrappers, and packages. There are fewer trimmings, peelings, outer leaves and stalks of vegetables or other waste parts of food.

Thus, while the kitchen wastebasket overflows, looks unsightly and is clumsy to carry out and empty, the garbage pail may be too large and no longer justify the space it occupies.

Families with gardens may have enough trimmings from their home-produced food to need ample kitchen garbage pails. But they also are using more packaged foods than in former days when many staples were sold in bulk.

A convenient device for trash might be a portable, metal-lined bin with an opening on the outside of the house as well as in the kitchen. Such a bin could be carried or rolled away from the outside opening to save carrying through the kitchen and the trash would be closed out of sight so the kitchen would look neater.

Panorama Of Jazz . . .

The Jazz Concert presented by the St. Stanislaus Orchestra was a great success. The Orchestra was conducted by Norman Carnovale who arranged and compiled the majority of the numbers.

The first selection of the program was a History of Jazz by Carnovale; this depicted the evolution of Jazz from the primitive negro forms. The Brass Section then played Holiday For Strings which was arranged by Norman Carnovale; the Sax Section was next with Body and Soul arranged by Norman. They were followed by Tonsillectomy by Handy, Talk of the Town by Land, and a Stan Kenton Montage which was compiled by no one else but . . . Norman Carnovale. The intermission was followed by Excerpts from Gershwin's Rhapsody in Blue and A Decade of Hits.

The main object of the Concert was to prove that since Jazz was born in the South and grew to be a thing of immense interest to the average American citizen it could be added to the present day high school curriculum, and judging from the talk going around, the boys seemed to have put their point across with the wonderful program they presented.

Norman and Norbert Carnovale, 1st Lieutenant and Captain of the band, respectively, were the manuscript copyists; while Norman was the director and did the scripts and arrangements.

Brother Romuald, S. C., and Brother Elbert, S. C. were faculty advisors.

Civic Music Group Schedules 4 Concerts

The Gulf Coast Civic Music Association is a new feature which music lovers will appreciate. Four concerts have been booked for the 1950-51 season and there were 100 applicants on the waiting list, Mrs. John Husband said.

BOOKS 33
Mrs. Husband, who was in charge of the publicity and ticket sales for Bay St. Louis, booked 33 members from here. In case a member is not able to attend, some one on the waiting list will be notified.

Well-known artists on the program is the National Male Quartette, composed of Attilio Baggiore, Gene Tobin, Vernon Sanders, and Bruce McKay, each a solo artist with Walter Hatchek as accompanist. They are now being booked for their 4th nation wide concert. Others appearing on one of the four concerts offered for the year will be the Longines Sinfonietta, symphonette, under the direction of Mishel Pliastro; Iva Kitchel, nationally famous dance humorist, well known in this part of the country, as she has appeared several times in New Orleans.

NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION
The Civic Music Association has for more than twenty-five years made it possible for the principal cities of the United States, from Coast to Coast, to present a series of concerts annually on a financially sound basis. Civic Music Associations are entirely non-profit and cooperative and require no guarantor and incur no deficits.

A Lot of Beans...

In the patch planted by Joe and Norman Compretta on March 23rd. The first picking yielded over 50 bushels and this week the second picking brought in more than 150 bushels. The patch is less than two acres, on land owned by Raymond Talbot in the rear of his grocery on the Old Spanish Trail. The beans were delivered by truck to Hammond, La., to be shipped to northern markets. Joe and Norman estimate that their crop will exceed 600 bushels, and will average $2.00 per bushel or a gross of $1200.00 or more.

The work of these boys should be an incentive to others in our vicinity. If more would follow in their footsteps it would not be necessary to truck these products to Hammond for shipment. Bay St. Louis was once a center of activity for the truck farmers; it could be done again.

PRAIRIE TRAINING INSTITUTE IS SUPPLYING INDUSTRIAL NEED

Mississippi's trend toward greater industrialization has received an added boost through establishment of the Trades Training Institute of Mississippi State College at Prairie.

Harnessed to the soil for generations, people of Mississippi are today enjoying greater opportunities to free themselves from agriculture as the only means to economic security.

Occupying the site of the wartime Gulf Ordnance Plant, T.T.I. was the brain child of a group of far sighted Mississippians who saw the need for an institution to offer technical training to that vast majority of young men who would never go to college, either because they did not have the educational background to enter or an interest in college training. A large number of ex-servicemen made this need stand out as it had never done before.

At the end of the war 86,465 Mississippi World War II veterans indicated their desire for some type of technical training, but, as many states, only junior colleges and private vocational schools—all too small to meet the tremendous demand—offered any such courses.

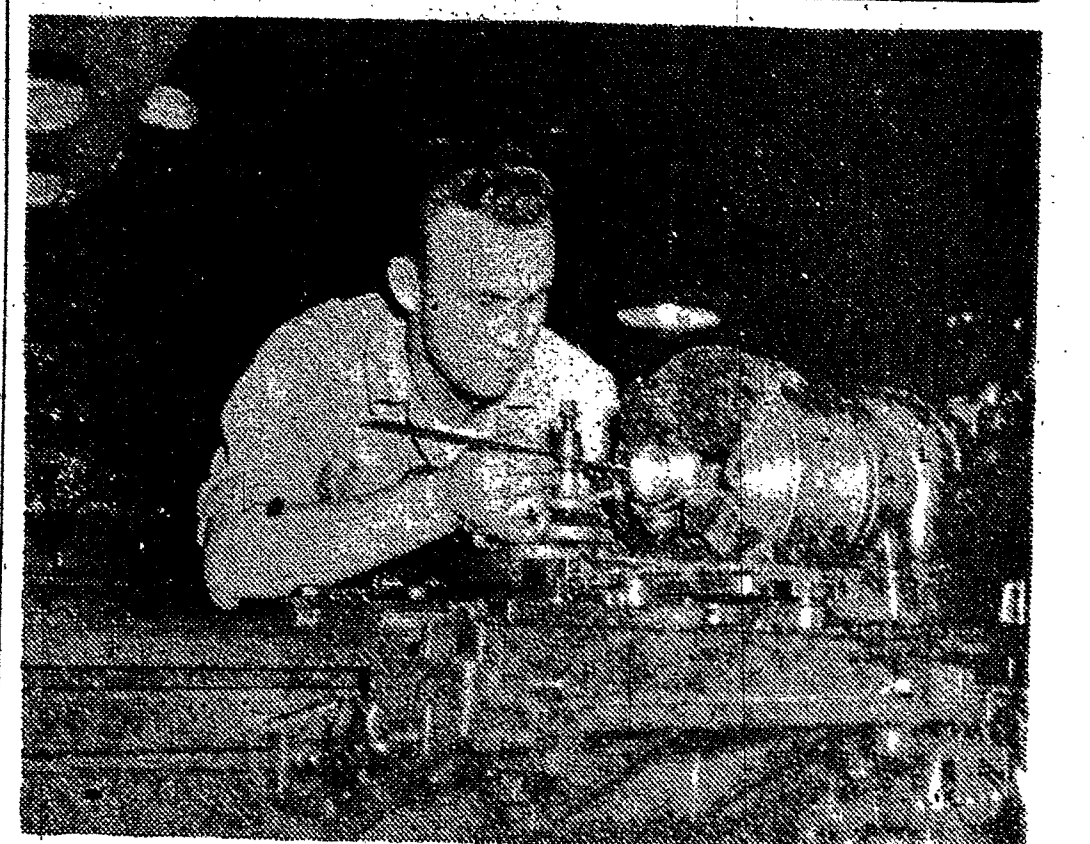

President Fred T. Mitchell and his staff at Mississippi State College, together with the late Governor Thomas L. Bailey, and other far sighted Mississippians, saw in this abandoned war plant the possibility to bring to these returning veterans the opportunity that had never before been theirs within their own state. Lack of education would not be a handicap. Plans for the Institute's organization included related and remedial study courses to enable these veterans to raise their educational level at the same time they were learning to become skilled craftsmen. To date, twelve students have learned to read and write at Prairie while they were becoming proficient in their chosen trade.

After many set-backs the Trades Training Institute finally became a reality on November 15, 1946. W. J. Breit, with over 30 years' experience in trades and vocational training, drew the task of organizing the Institute, and became its director when the school was established. From a modest beginning of seven courses, he and his staff expanded the school's program until today training is offered in 17 trades and vocations. At its first registration the institute enrolled 234 students in its seven course curriculum which included automotive mechanics, cabinet making, carpentry, machine shop work, industrial electricity, welding, and office management. The institution was able to utilize facilities previously operated by the Gulf Ordnance Plant to commence the teaching of these courses.

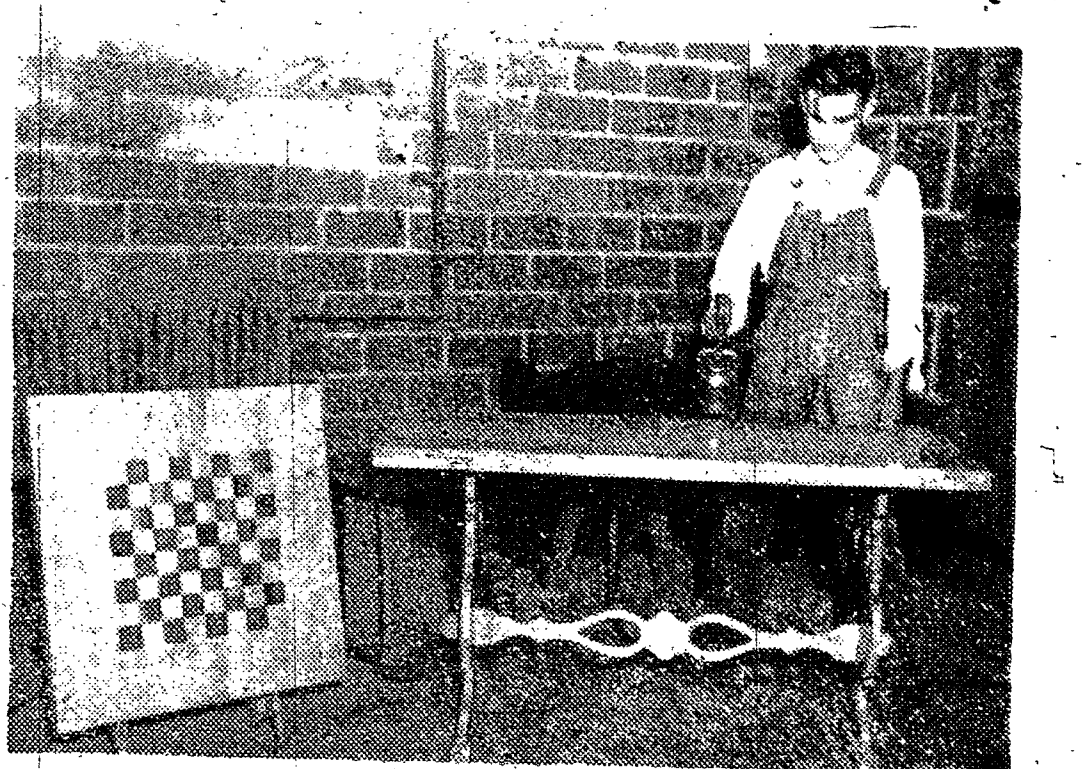

As other courses were added it became necessary to expand the available facilities, convert buildings used for other purposes, and assemble materials not already available. In 1947 courses in refrigeration and air conditioning, automotive body and fender repair, painting and interior decorating, office machine repair, farm mechanics, electrical appliances, and radio repair were added to enlarge the Institute's program.

In 1948 courses were begun in cafeteria management and Diesel mechanics and a radio repair course was revised to include training in television. This completed the school's present curriculum.

By reason of its location, the Trades Training Institute at first attracted students mainly from northeast Mississippi. As it became better known students from all over the state as well as adjoining ones applied for admission. Today 70 of the 82 counties of Mississippi are represented as well as Ala-hama, Tennessee, Arkansas, Florida, Iowa and Virginia.

Courses vary from 12 to 36 months in length. To date there have been 699 graduates. Of this number approximately 150 have re-entered to take additional training. According to a survey conducted by the school's Information Department, an on-site graduates, they have been well received by the employers. Approximately 80 per cent reported having found employment immediately or very soon after graduation.

One convincing example, picked from a number of similar files is that of Luther Draine Drake, 21, of Smithville, Mississippi. Drake, a married veteran, entered the industrial electricity class with this background: farm laborer with no high school education, discharged from the U. S. Navy. Eleven months after Drake entered the 18-month maximum course his record read as follows: graduated, mathematics, B; good, grade average of "B"; employed by a well-known mid-South firm with a beginning weekly wage of $54.22.

Included in the school's related and remedial study program are such subjects as mechanical drawing, blueprint reading, basic English grammar, physics, basic and advanced mathematics, business law, typing, civics, shorthand, bookkeeping and class room theory for the applied shop courses. The school is open throughout the year and students may enroll the last Monday of any month. In general, four hours each day are devoted to production work in the shops and two hours to related and remedial studies. Students are assigned to remedial courses according to their needs.

Housing facilities and dormitory space are available to accommodate 1200 to 1500 students. In addition, facilities common to the average college campus such as a cafeteria, hospital, gymnasium and athletic fields are a part of the Institute's campus.

The Institute's student body has been composed almost 100 per cent of veterans. Contrary to the trend among most of the colleges and universities today, veteran enrollment at the Institute has yet to decline. The school has grown continuously from the date of its establishment. Its present capacity is approximately 1200. A majority of the courses have already been filled and approximately 200 applicants have had to be turned away in the past two or three months for those courses that have reached a maximum.

American industrial education leaders contend that Mississippi's newest technical school may well be proud of its record. It is helping to fill the state's and nation's increasing technical needs. More than technical training, however, is the Institute's importance to men—men who endeavor to rise above their present economic level. Mississippians who are suffering from the stigma of a one-crop farm economy, are awakening to the new era in the state, and humankind, machinery at this progressive training center at Prairie points the way for these tradesmen of tomorrow.

Notes For Vets
Of World War I

If you may qualify for payments of $60 a month from the Veterans Administration. That wouldn't be true, of course, if you are single and make more than $1,000 a year, or 2,500 a year and have a wife or dependent child.

HELP FOR VETS

Frequently Bob De Kay, State Veterans' Affairs Commissioner, says, "We discover disabled veterans who have been totally disabled for years because of illness or injury. Many of them are now receiving $60 a month after filing claim for permanent and total disability payments. They would have received it long before if they had the help of a service officer in making application. The Commission is making a real drive to locate those disabled veterans who are eligible and yet who have not applied."

If you are a disabled veteran and think you might qualify, contact your county veterans' service officer or a veterans organization, your county welfare officer, or write a letter to the State Veterans Affairs Commission. Proper forms are available from county and post officers from the State Veterans Affairs Commission in Jackson.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—A number of off-campus speakers have accepted invitations to lecture in the summer conferences for Southern students' teachers to be held at the Mississippi Southern College campus during the first six weeks of the summer session.

The conferences will open June 6 with Dr. William D. McLean, director of the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, Jackson, as speaker. He will speak on illustrative historical materials from Mississippi.

For the second week's conference, the social studies teachers will attend sessions of the Reading Conference, sponsored by the Reading Clinic under Dr. A. J. Bennett. The principal speaker for the social studies sessions will be Dr. Kenneth Rehage, University of Chicago.

Miss Pearl Gupton, Natchez teacher and author, and three members of the Mississippi Southern faculty will be lecturers for the third conference, June 22. Miss Gupton will give an illustrated lecture on historical materials from the Natchez area. Dean D. A. McLeone, and Dr. J. Treadwell Davis will speak on illustrative historical materials from Mississippi and the Shiloh battlefield. Prof. G. E. Oliver will speak on visual aids available in Mississippi.

Actions of legislators from Mississippi will be discussed June 29 by four Mississippi legislators: Senator Stanton A. Hall, and Representatives Evelyn Gandy, Travis Myers, John S. Varden, Congressman William M. Colmer expressed interest in this section, but was unable to accept an invitation to speak until he knew when Congress would adjourn. Representative Francis Gaudry, Harrison and Jackson Counties, will appear if personal business affairs permit him.

Secretary of State Heber Ladner, Jackson, Mayor D. L. Holmes, Hattiesburg, and George W. Causey, chancery clerk of Forrest county, will speak on the political organization of Mississippi at both state and local levels, July 6. Three Hattiesburg attorneys will discuss revising the Mississippi Constitution in a second part of the session July 6. Speakers will be Overton Currie, chairman, Thomas D. Ott, and Judge Rowland W. Heidelberg, Jr., city judge of Hattiesburg.

County Judge William Harrison, Hattiesburg, will be the principal speaker at the final conference, Tuesday July 11. He will speak on two topics: The Mississippi Youth Court, and Unanimous Jury Verdicts.

The conferences are being organized partly for visiting teachers who are interested, and partly as a two-hour history course. It is intended to help Mississippi teachers find illustrations from this state for the courses in social studies which they teach.

County Pays $603,642 In Support of State Government

Hancock County citizens will pay approximately $603,642 to support state government in Mississippi during the next two years, according to an analysis made by the Mississippi Economic Council of expenditures authorized by the recent legislature.

Total new appropriations by the legislature for the next biennium, including both ordinary support and non-recurring items, was $131,226,455—the highest in history. A State Tax Commission report reveals that approximately $17,115,647 of the total appropriation was for non-recurring items, leaving around $114,110,808 for ordinary support of state government.

Hancock County's share of state expenditures is arrived at by applying the MEC's economic index, which shows that it pays 46 per cent of the total state tax bill.

"The MEC points out the cost of state government to county citizens to show them what they are actually paying into state government," the Council release states. "It is not an attempt to condemn or uphold the appropriations made."

"It is the duty of a good citizen to keep himself fully informed on government matters, and especially local, state and national expenditures. In the final analysis, it is always the taxpayer who pays the bill."

A GOOD SYSTEM

With all the loose talk about security today, wise are they who can tell the difference between a false security and one that is true.

One form of American security that has been long tried and has withstood the test of time and the stress of circumstance is that security that comes with saving money. And saving money provides much more than financial security.

Our American System of Free Enterprise itself is deeply rooted into the sound principle of savings. Without the financial reserves supplied by money savers, there would be neither stability nor strength in the American System.

Savers create the capital used for business expansion. Without this capital, business would stagnate—it could not build to the future to finance factories and machines and provide the added employment needed for an increasing population in a growing country.

Savings promote self-reliance and personal responsibility in the individual and form a bulwark against the spread of Socialism. When the citizen is permitted and encouraged to do his full part and does it, there is no need for Government to step in and take over.

Nothing is so fraught with danger for the future of the country as extravagance, either by the citizen or by the state. Unfortunately the people who are spending money most freely today are the ones who can least afford to do it. Spending beyond one's income, living beyond one's means is an undermining influence. It saps the individual of his self-respect and initiative. It drains the nation of its reserve strength and makes it an easy prey to socialistic schemes.

A sound economy is one in which the people and the government are economical. The solvency of a state rests upon the thrift of its citizens and the frugality of its public servants. No security can be sounder than the economy, industry and integrity of a people. Preserve the American System. Save and succeed.
